RON GRIEGER, Ph.D.

President and Founder

Ron Grieger has over 30 years of experience in abrasives. After receiving his Ph.D. from Purdue University in 1973, he joined General Electric Superabrasives as a Product Engineer. He was promoted to Manager of Diamond Engineering in 1976. In 1980 Ron joined GE Lighting Business Group as Advanced Process Engineering Manager. In 1983 he moved on to GE Medical Systems as Engineering Manager for the X-Ray Tube Generation Business.

In 1985 Ron moved back into the abrasives industry by joining GTE Valdiamant as Operations Manager. This later became Phoenix Crystal, a consulting company that provided engineering services to plants in China and Texas. He joined Norton Company in 1992 as Divisional Vice President. During his career in industry, Ron has hired over 50 people in technical operations, sales, and quality. He has a large network of industrial contacts and has developed a reputation of hiring exceptional talent. Ron started his current business in consulting in 1998.
